WORD OF THE MONTH

MOMENTS FOREVER

The world will never truly know what it is that we hold.

A unique bond that has held us close,
in the dark and even behind shut doors.

Unsaid words and glances of trust, warnings told with advices which were a certain must.

Blame taken not by one but by all there to catch you as stumble and fall.

that inexplicable

feeling talked about on loop and events lived together as a troupe.

Not caring for the worlds say, worries set aside for another day.

As the days fly by,
they remain like a family of mine

The one that formed over time the one I always wished to be mine
